Mom,I cant believe that your gone.I always thought that you would be here forever.Im so lost without you i miss you so much it gets harder everyday because its one more day that i havent seen you or talked to you.When you found out that you had lung cancer you were so strong and you had hope.You never lost faith no matter what they said to you.I felt so sorry for you who would have known when you found out in sept that in april you would be gone.Life just isnt fair you were to young to go.I think about you all the time.We had so many good times together.I didnt just lose my mom but i lost my "best friend".I told you everything.You and me were close and a part of me went with you.The only thing that keeps me going is knowing that i will see you again and i will hear your voice.I look at your pictures all the time and i cant wait to be with you again.Thanks for being the best mom you were always there for me and you listen to me no matter what it was you were there when i needed you thanks.When god created mothers he sure did give me the BEST!!!!No one will ever fill your shoes mom.I love you more then words can say and i will miss you dearly until we see each other again mom.Love you always and forever your daughter.

I was so shocked to hear of Myrt's passing... I loved her like a sister and know she felt the same in return.. From the day I met her many many yrs ago we had a special bond and special lingo for each other.. I can hear her now saying... "Hey Lady!!" .I have so many wonderful memories of the good times and laughter with both Myrt and Joe.. Rox, I am so very sorry. I know how much she loved you and your family and Little Joe and his. My heart goes out to Norrie, Nancy and Thomas, I am so sorry for your loss..Joe, I can't find the words to console you.. I will keep you in my thoughts and prayers and always know that I love you and hope you find confort in knowing how many people love you and loved Myrt. I will forever miss her smile and laughter..She is in a much better place and is at peace and no longer suffering and in pain.. I love you Myrt!!!

oh mom... its so hard staying at the house without you being here. i looked over at the hospital bed and kept staring the other day, i know if you were to appear youd be watching over me but the emptiness over took me. you all miss you so much and are lost at words to express how we feel let alone our love for you. you were always a gentle caring warm hearted lady and im so glad i had the opportunity to call you my grandmother. i just only wish my baby could have known the great lady you once were. ill show little myrtle ann the pictures and share our fun jitter bugging times we had together. i remember being a little girl with you at wards working in the back, we had so much fun.. i only wish i could keep writing all the fun re memorable times weve shared but no internet site could hold the memories we have.. i love you dearly myrtle the turtle. and will NEVER forget everything youve done for us all. just watch out over us, and bless us all with ur strength and kindness. love you mom
