Dear Elaine, It is with great sadness that I write to you upon hearing of Billy's recent passing. My memory of you and Billy, a beautiful and very cool young couple, goes far back to my early childhood days... you were part of my family before I was. I loved being in your company as there was always an abundance of food, laughter and funny stories... Billy's big, warm smile and hearty laugh filled a room... and whenever he was around, we knew we would be in for a good time! My sister and brother-in-law, Sav and Buddy, shared a very special friendship, as well as a strong family bond with you both, which extended into my family and beyond. Thank you for so many heartwarming memories which have become a central part of my own childhood recollections. May the closeness of friends and loved ones help you, Scott and family to deal with your loss and bring you some measure of comfort in the days ahead. May it help at least a little to know you and Billy have always been fondly thought of and will remain in our hearts and prayers, always. Much love, Joanne Parnofiello xo
