It's been just over a year since you left us to rest peacefully in paradise. And not a day goes by that I don't miss you. I miss when we were in Mandarin, and we would spend hours sitting by your pool just talking about anything and everything. I miss your genuine love and thoughtful advice. You always had the best intentions and laid so many careful plans for your family. You gave me the tools to navigate this world with kindness and consideration. I miss your smile and your laughter. Your laugh was always so mischievous and adorable, it was truly contagious. I remember when I rescued my first dog and I brought her to your house to meet. Nova does not like people, but you and her took to each other so effortlessly. You used to sneak her treats from your plate, and even sing to her as she fell asleep. You always inspired my creativity, whether it was artwork, singing, dancing or writing, you never tried to funnel me into one single thing, but inspired me to explore everything. Your heart was full to bursting, and I miss you every single day. I missed you before you were gone. I missed your words and advice. I'm grateful we could still share laughter and music in your final years, but I wish we had had more. More time, more words, more hugs... I am so grateful for everything you gave me in your life. From your wise lessons to your mindful moments... Thank you. I love you forever, I like you for always, as long as I'm living, my inspiration you'll be. ❤️
