Chris, your passing has left us with heavy hearts, as we had hope that the day would come that we could build on the memories that create lasting bonds. We do derive comfort knowing that you are at peace now with your parents who you loved and dearly missed. The memories that we have of you will be cherished always. In closing, I will use the words you always ended our conversations with: I love you with all my heart. Rest In Peace. Love, Aunt Linda

I remember when Chris was a kid I would pick him up from Brooklyn and bring him to my horse farm on L.I. and we would hang around the farm and ride and care for the horses and just really enjoy the nature environment and closeness that we shared and the love that was always there. I'm going to miss our conversations and memories that we shared. Say hello to your mom n dad and grandma n grandpa for me. Rest in peace nephew, with much love and sadness goodbye for now, love Uncle Bobby

My cousin Chris was one of the most loving and loyal people I have ever met. I will miss our conversations and the funny stories he would tell. Sleep peacefully, dear cousin, until we meet again. Love you.
