“ I will greatly miss Artie. We worked together in District Court for a while and it didn't take long to see what an amazing man he was. His intellect, his ability to recall and his incredible memory served him and the court so well. We continued staying in touch after his retirement and remained friends. He was a thoughtful and loyal friend and I will always treasure his memory. I know he is missing Linda and the other folks he held dear. Rest easy my dear friend.

“ I am trying to send this again.
My tribute to my Precious one.

As I pause at the threshold of my life before and my future to come, I am reflecting on the wonderful and fulfilling 20 plus years that Precious Art and I shared together. Oh what special years.

When we got together, he told me that no matter what it takes he would always make sure that I was able to hear and understand what he said to me. He kept that promise up to the end.

On that Monday night February 1 when I went to see him, I could barely hear him as his voice was so low but he tried so hard. I kept hugging him and putting his arm around me and he started rubbing my shoulders. I don't want to say good-bye as I know we will see each other again.

But I want everyone to know how special this man was and still is, and what great joy and happiness he brought into my life and what an honor and privilege for me to have been part of his life also.

Art is my soulmate and will be forever and a day.

We trained wit our dogs together, he was my support through my cochlear implant surgeries, we read books together. I even read a couple braille books to him. I still picture him sitting beside me in his recliner and as we listened to a book, sometimes he would fall asleep and start snoring. Hahaha. I would tell him to stop snoring. He would say I'm not. Haha. And by the way, I am using his "favorite spoon."

Precious had a very remarkable memory and it served him well throughout his life. He was a remarkable man and full of life. When he was diagnosed with Stage III lung cancer, he met it head on. The cancer met its match. The doctors and staff at the Cancer Center were just amazed at how well My precious Art handled the radiation and chemotherapy.

We both have met many challenges over the years and we had lots of fun too. He told me many stories of his life in District Court and how much he loved his job.

Art, my precious one, the condo is a lonely place without you there, but rest assured I will be okay. Sherry and Richard and our friends and I am so very thankful that you are now well and free from pain. You can now walk and see. You can now run around with JJ, Dusty, Charcoal and Shirley.

God bless you my dear heart, and rest in peace. Remember, Arthur Robert Nolden, I love you forever and a day. We will hold each other again some day.

Your loving Princess Admiral

“ From the first moment Rich brought me to meet you, you were so welcoming. You greeted me with a warm hug and a "Free Hug" card. I was only blessed to have you in my life for three years, but you filled those three years with funny and loving moments. Every visit ended with a hug, and a laugh. You welcome my children into the family as if they had always been there. I still tease Rich by saying "Blink, blink" when we turn and will carry on that tradition in your memory. lol. I smile when I think of the random things we talked about on the phone, and especially when I think about last years birthday when you and Linda called me and sang "Happy Birthday" to me. It was so unexpected and meant the world to me. I will miss so many things especially you saying "Hugs to Sherry" when you are going to hang up the phone and asking for me as soon as we arrived at your house. You've shared so many bits of knowledge and trivia. I love you and miss you everyday. You left us way to soon. Hugs to dad.

“ Art was a major contributor to the SWC emails. He kept us updated on Florida weather around Tampa. He always had amusing antidotes to share. And whatever historical note for the day. I was hoping to meet you in person one day. We all miss you Art and your stories about your devoted Princess Linda and JJ, your Guide dog by the sea.

“ Thank you for posting, we the family appreciate your "memory". I would like to correct a few errors. Birth year per his birth certificate is 1943. He is survived by significant other Linda Knight, son Richard Nolden (Sherry Nolden) and grandchildren Tiffany Cramer (Zach Cramer), Amanda Nolden, Brandie Morgan, Sierra Morgan, Cameron Morgan and Shane Van Patten and great granddaughter Thyra Cramer. We do appreciate the information on the other people listed. Artie was a great man with many people around him that loved him dearly. He survived by more people than we can list. The weekly visits and his daily phone calls are one of the any things we will miss.

Sherry - February 27 at 07:06 AM

“ Sherry, you should not correct things cause you get things wrong again.

firstly, Brandie Morgan, Sierra Morgan, Cameron Morgan are not his grandchildren, no blood line, their your trash.

Your hasband, has no balls and no respect for others. He should have been the one to write the Obit, it was 10 days and still no

Obit (he was probably sitting on his ass,) so I wrote the Obit,

Rich was omitted cause he was disowned years ago when he got drunk and married you. He thinks his chit don't stink just like the old bastard old man of his.

Back in '93 when Mom died, the old bastard left the family with a hair up his ass, been there a long time. He didn't go to any Nolden funerals neither did your husband, no respect, my wife or his own dads .Was going to send the Limo for him. he said no.

There is only 6 survivors in the Nolden family . me, Caroline,

Irene, Barbara Joseph and Shane. The rest of you monkeys can go to Hell !!

It's good, the old bastard dropped dead, now he can pull that long hair out of his ass that's been there for 3 to 4 decades.

There was no love lost. he died 28 years ago. when he left the family!!!!

When you find out about the other side of the old bastard you won't like him at all cause it's not nice !!

Stop B.S ing people with false truths !!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

“ Amen Uncle Bobby. If the world only knew. Just luckily I hope that Sherry's children didn't have to experience the hell I went through and the trauma that was caused by it.
